

First Education & School Travel with Cotswold Farm Park Education & Conservation Residential Visits

First Education & School Travel, Adam Henson's Cotswold Farm Park and YHA England & Wales have teamed up to create a new travel-inclusive residential visit experience which includes a programme of Education & Conservation activities at the home of Rare Breeds Conservation in Gloucestershire.

Adam Henson is a well-known farmer, T.V. presenter and conservationist and activities are aimed at promoting key issues such as animal welfare, food production and sustainable farming.

We can offer your group an affordable residential trip package suitable for all key stage age groups... and all for one simple all-inclusive price.

Key Stage 1 & 2 programmes include:

Chick & rabbit chat, Farm Safari & Tractor School, Bushcraft, Conservation Zone, Rare Breeds through history, Jurassic Dig and the Quest for the Cotswold Lion Maze.

Key Stage 3 & 4 programmes include:

Farm Safari, Seasonal Farming Demonstrations, WW1 Land Army Exercise, Conservation Zone, Rare Breeds through History, Bushcraft & Shelter Building, Guided walk through the SSSI area and Explore our Jurassic History.

Who are we?

First Education & School Travel is part of the First Group of companies, the U.K.'s largest surface passenger transport company. We offer a fully packaged, one stop shop option for schools planning residential visits.
